OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

June 23, 1967

The Honorable Ivan Allen, Jr.
Mayor of Atlanta,
Atlanta, Georgia 30303

Dear Ivan:

Tonight the boys and girls of the dormitory go down to see the Braves play. I wish you could see how excited they are about it. If this enthusiasm lasts, I think every game this summer is going to see 60 or 70 of our boarding students returning.

You were most thoughtful to arrange for us to be able to give them this initiation to professional baseball. Knowing how very busy you are, I am deeply appreciative of your help.

Cordially,

William L. Pressly
