

southern region and hitting their explosion.

a candidate in the Vietnamese election addresses them in Pleiku, S. Viet Nam. The election takes place Sunday.

Says He Will Stay in Jail

Carmichael 'Political Prisoner'

ATLANTA (UPI) — Associates of jailed "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael said Friday he would remain behind bars as a "political prisoner" while they go into federal court with efforts to stop arrests of racial demonstrators.

"Mr. Carmichael is a political prisoner captured by Atlanta police and chooses to stay in jail," James Forman, acting chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) told a news conference.

Earlier in the day Carmichael was bound over to a grand jury under $10,000 bond on charges of inciting the riot that broke out in the Summerhill Negro district of Atlanta Tuesday. During the outburst about 1,000 Negroes pelted police with rocks and bottles and toppled Mayor Ivan Allen from a car when he tried to reason with them.

Carmichael was arrested about midnight Thursday at the SNCC headquarters.

Takes Command

Forman, who came here from Philadelphia to take command in Carmichael's absence, and other SNCC leaders issued a barrage of bitter statements against Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen, the police department and the U.S. war effort in Viet Nam.

Forman said Atlanta can count on intensified demonstrations in the near future but gave no details.

Reporters covering the news conference were ushered into a large upstairs room of the SNCC headquarters and staff members, some wearing "black power" lapel buttons, took down names of those present. No one was allowed to leave the room alone.

It was explained by Forman that "we are afraid somebody will dynamite us."

At the conclusion of the news conference, a SNCC staff member went downstairs and unlocked a heavy door wired with an alarm system to permit reporters to leave.

Denounced by many of his own people, Carmichael returned to the riot-scarred district Thursday and went from door-to-door telling residents he was not responsible for the riot.

But his troubles continued to mount during the day. First, he was denounced on the floor of Congress as an "anarchist," then his onetime associate Julian Bond, the Negro representative-elect to the Georgia House refused to seat, announced he was pulling out of SNCC, and finally he was taken into custody.

UPI Telephoto

so close to a tiny high-flying target drone that it would have destroyed a full-sized aircraft.

Viet Police Halt March On Embassy

SAIGON (UPI) — Vietnamese police Friday broke up an attempted march by Buddhist Monks on the U.S. Embassy to protest against the American-backed general elections Sunday. Hundreds of other monks and nuns staged hunger strikes.

The monks were members of the unified Buddhist church which has called on all followers to boycott the elections for a constitutional assembly to pave the way for a return of civilian government.

Police intercepted and arrested about a dozen monks, carrying anti-American and anti-government banners, about one-quarter of a mile from the embassy in downtown Saigon. Other police and American M.P.s threw a tight cordon about the embassy which was ringed with rolls of barbed wire.

The government police hustled the monks into their jeeps and seized such posters as one reading: "The U.S. and South Vietnamese governments are responsible for the death of Tri Quang."

Wilentz to Appear At Dinner Here

Warren W. Wilentz, Democratic organization candidate for U.S. Senator, will be featured speaker tonight at the Ewing Township Democratic Club dinner, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Geneva Inn.

Rumors are that David Frost, Democratic "peace" candidate for senator, also will show up for the affair.

Other honored guests will include all area Democratic candidates for public office and Neil Sarvat, a long-time worker and former corresponding secretary of the Ewing party organization.

es for A-Test

weaponry France goal, left for toll proving southeast of 10 p.m.

Research Minister Alain Peyrefitte.

The 10-foot high nuclear device, expected to contain less than a megaton (one million pounds of TNT) of punch, was to be detonated as it swung from a cable beneath a huge balloon hovering 1,700 feet above the atoll lagoon.

French are attempting to the components that their hydrogen was to be on another