Chicago, Illinois

Dear Mr. Bartholomay:

I would like to join the many Atlantans who have contacted you regarding the locating of the Milwaukee Braves in Atlanta.

As a life-long resident, an ardent sports enthusiast, (I was nick-named for John "Muggsy" McGraw), a member of the State Legislature for 16 years and one-time candidate for Mayor, I can truthfully say Atlanta offers a vast potential for major league sports. It is a peculiar town in that its people want the best and anything short of the Major Leagues does not attract the fans.

I sincerely hope your Board will decide to make Atlanta your future--and permanent home.

Sincerely,
