

Atlanta Mayor Will Receive Human Relations Award Sept. 23

Atlanta Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. is to be the recipient of the 1967 Abe Goldstein Human Relations Award at a banquet Saturday evening, September 23. It was announced by the Awards Committee of the Atlanta Division of the Anti-Defamation League.

Co-chairing the committee, composed of Atlanta members of the Southeastern Regional Advisory Board of the ADL and other Jewish community leadership, are M. William Breman, Ben Hyman, Irving K. Kaler and Ben Massell Jr. The chairmen in announcing the committee's choice cited the Mayor's "courageous leadership in seeking to marshal all of Atlanta's human resources to confront today's pressing social problems." It is the feeling of the Committee that "his determined leadership points the way for Atlanta to become, in the eyes of all, a true City of Progress."

The committee stated, "The Mayor's many contributions to better human relations in our community span a number of years and show his deep concern. He was the only chief executive from a Southern city to testify in behalf of a Federal public accommodations law. He was instrumental in the creation of Atlanta's Community Relations Commission, charged with among other responsibilities, translating the problems of the city's depressed areas into corrective action. He created the Housing Resources Committee to develop low income housing through private enterprise and public housing to help alleviate slum housing. He is urging passage of the President's fair housing bill."

Mr. Kaler, the ADL Committee's spokesman, stated, "We are pleased to honor Mayor Ivan Allen for his creative efforts to solve our complex urban problems."

The Abe Goldstein Human Relations Award was established by the Atlanta ADL Committee to honor Abe Goldstein, president of Prior Tire Co., who is a member of the organization's board, and has devoted himself to religious and racial amity. The award is presented yearly to an individual or organization making a contribution to better intergroup relations in the City of Atlanta. The 1966 recipient was Mayor Emeritus William B. Hartsfield.

The award banquet is scheduled for 7:00 p. m. at the Standard Club.
