The Honorable Mr. Ivan Allen Jr., Mayor
City of Atlanta
Georgia

Dear Sir,

Your appearances on the television news-casts, and the recent columns in the newspapers concerning the critical shortage in low-income housing have brought me to this point of addressing you.

I am an innocent owner of slum property, (just of pocket handkerchief size, but it weighs on my mind and heart), and I wish to do all in my power to correct the situation, but I am "ham strung" by The Housing Authority.

Your appeal to private investors, not relying on Federal Government programs, encourages me to respond. My area of participation would be very small. not in the least comparable with the Celotex Corporation, but as a last descendant of an old Atlanta family, and concerned with the well-being of us all, I would so very much like to talk to some one who can offer an answer.

If you are interested I can give further details and facts.

Most sincerely,

Katherine C. Ware
