

"JEANNE MOREAU... SPECTACULARLY VICIOUS FEMALE.

She wears shiny black silk stockings. She licks her lips and lets her mouth fall open. She looks at men with cool, unmistakably knowing eyes, and when she walks through town, her motion is hardly that of a rusty gate. This totally erogenous woman... taking out her resentments upon a lusty wood chopper who has been obliging all the farmers' wives... catches the wood chopper's eye, fires his erotic interests, goes off with him into the fields and ends up by wriggling to him on her stomach, whimpering, and licking his face like a dog." —NEW YORK TIMES
