Dear Mayor Allan:

I am a high school science teacher studying at R.P.I. for the summer, and I have just read your testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee. Your words, your sentiments, and your obvious intelligence were so striking in comparison to testimony from other Southern officials, that I am moved to write this letter of gratitude. Please continue to work hard for human rights, and may your influence reach far and wide.

Sincerely,

Austin S. Kibbee, Jr.
