

New York City
August 4, 1963

The Honorable Ivan Allen, Jr.
Mayor of the City of Atlanta
City Hall
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mayor Allen:

I, as a Georgian and former editor of ATLANTA MAGAZINE, felt both pride and unhappiness at the enclosed article I read in today's Herald Tribune. I am proud of you as a mayor and as a man. I am unhappy that many Atlantans, probably some of my friends, could dare to question your stand. But whatever the reaction now, I'm sure that in the future all Atlantans will consider you as one of the most far-seeing, honorable, and great mayors that the city has ever had. I am only sorry that as a resident of N.Y., I won't be able to vote for you in the next election.

Sincerely - my best wishes,
Sara Pacher